

To the People of the Territory of Utah:

We have enjoyed a year of peace and plenty. The ties which unite us to our neighbors of the surrounding States and Territories have been strengthened by social and business intercourse, and the yield of our agricultural, mining and other industries has been most bountiful. I therefore respectfully recommend that on Thursday, November 26, 1891, the day designated by the President of the United States, in the usual places of worship, thanks be given to the Divine Providence which has blessed our lives and Territory, and specially recommend that the day be marked by a desire on the part of all to make brighter the homes of those who may need our sympathy and support.

In Testimony Whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the Territory to be affixed Done at Salt Lake City, Utah, this twenty-first day of November,
